

PORT ARTHUR NOW CUT OFF

Japanese Have Closed All Communications with Outside World From Doomed City.

EARLIER REPORTS ARE CONFIRMED

Japanese Have Landed Troops, and Now Completely Surround Port Arthur--Other Late War Gossip.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
Chefoo, May 6.—The Japanese are losing no time in perfecting their lines to Manchuria, according to news received here today. Well authenticated reports come that Gen. Oku has landed his army of 65,000 men at Pitawo, on the eastern shore of the Liao Tung peninsula, opposite Port Adams, and at the northern boundary of the Russian concession. Gen. Oku's force includes the Kanamoto division, which took part in the capture of Port Arthur ten years ago during the China-Japanese war, and as many of these officers and men of the division still are with the division. It is expected to take the lead in the campaign. Other divisions in Gen. Oku's corps are the Tokyo and Osaka, as fine troops as there are in the military service. They have more than 100 mountain and field guns and are supplied with the new Japanese siege guns as well. According to the reports received here the landing was made under the cover of Admiral Togo's cruiser squadron and the last bombardment of Port Arthur is taken to have been made in order to distract the attention of the Russians from this movement.

Small Battle Reported
A rumor is current that the Japanese column, which landed at Takusan and was marching on Feng Wang Cheng to co-operate with Gen. Kuroki, met with determined opposition at Ching Kiang, to the southwest of the Russian position, and after succeeding in driving the Russians back on their main body, after fierce fighting, in which the loss was heavy on both sides. It is said that the Japanese are closing in on Feng Wang Cheng. Reinforcements are constantly arriving for the Japanese and it is a matter of only a few hours when the attack on the Russian position will be delivered. Renewed reports reach here of a Japanese landing in force in the neighborhood of New Chwang, but up to this time no certain confirmation has been received.

Ready to Attack New Chwang
Tokio, May 6.—The Japanese today says: "Our fleet has not returned to the rendezvous. It is still engaged in executing a prearranged program. There is reason to believe the Japanese intend landing a second army at New Chwang upon the successful bottling of Port Arthur."

The war council is said to be thoroughly satisfied with the condition of the campaign. The plans have been carried out without a hitch. The Mikado, it is reported, has sent a congratulatory telegram to Gen. Kuroki and the officers and men of his army.

Is Cut Off
Port Arthur is completely cut off by land and sea. One great Japanese army of 63,000 men and 125 guns is landing or has landed at Pitawo, about fifty miles northeast of the doomed fortress, and another equally powerful corps has reached Kin Chiao on the Tung peninsula. The points of landing are at the narrowest points of the promontory with only twenty miles between the beleaguered ring forces. At the south Admiral Togo has shut the sea gates on the Russian stronghold. Russia admits that the investment is complete and says it will be a fight to the death. From the Yalu comes the news that the Russian army is feeling precipitately to Mukden, with the Japanese in hot pursuit.

Four Big Fights
London, May 6.—Four great battles, two by land and two by sea, have been fought in the far east during the last twenty-four hours. By a sudden dash out of northwestern Korea, the Russians have defeated the Japanese forces below the Yalu in a second great fight, according to reports from St. Petersburg. A dispatch in the Central News from the Russian capital says a rumor is current there that a second battle has been fought at Kin Liau Cheng, in which the Russian loss was 7,000, the Japanese loss 10,000 men, and resulted in the Japanese being driven back in disorder.

Vladivostok Squadron Engaged
Persistent rumors from both Japanese and Russian sources confirm the report of a naval engagement between the Vladivostok and Vice Admiral Kaminura's squadrons. While these three great battles were being fought, according to reports, Rear Admiral Togo was pointing away with his squadron from Port Arthur and was hurling a rain of shot and shell into that unfortunate city. The attack began at daybreak and fighting still continues. The additional information reaches here to the effect that a fleet of forty Japanese battleships and transports were sighted off Wei-Hai-Wei Tuesday morning. The ships were steaming northwest.

Full Particulars
Tokio, May 6.—Admiral Hosoya gives the details of the landing of Japanese on the Liao Tung peninsula yesterday afternoon as follows: "The seventh division with the torpedo boats and Hong Kong Nippon Maru arrived from the advance base off Liao Tung peninsula at 5:30 on the afternoon of May 5. They bombarded the enemy's patrols and then a landing party was ordered ashore. It was low tide and impossible to use the boats. The sailors waded breast deep a thousand yards and reached the beach at 7:20. They took possession of a range of hills without firing a shot and planted the flag. The gunboats were employed to distract the enemy's attention. They discovered a hundred of the enemy and shelled them, killing several. The fleet of transports, seeing our flag on the hills, began landing troops at eight in the evening. The troops were forced to wade. Piers are now being erected for facilitating the landing. Admiral Kato, commander of the third squadron, reports he conveyed the first batch of the second army to Liao Tung base, arriving at five in the afternoon."

Double Guards
London, May 6.—The Times' Russian correspondent quotes the Harbin correspondent of the Novoye Vremya, who states in regard to the forces guarding the railway that the number of troops at each station and bridge has been doubled, and that companies of mounted frontier guards make daily excursions on either side of the railway for a distance of twenty-five versts. The object of these excursions is to clear the neighborhood of Chumchuses (Manchurian brigands), collisions with whom had become increasingly frequent.

Another Fight
London, May 6.—The Seoul correspondent of the Express claims to have learned from Japanese officials that General Kuroki is carefully planning another attack in force. He will replace his losses with troops drawn from the base in Korea, and will make a determined onslaught on the Russians before they have time to recover from their defeat. General Kuroki's objective is supposed to be Feng Chuan Cheng.

No Confirmation
St. Petersburg, May 6.—There is no confirmation here of the Paris rumor that an engagement between Russian and Japanese squadrons had taken place off Vladivostok, and St. Petersburg knows nothing of the rumored capture of New Chwang.

Near Port Arthur
London, May 6.—The Central News correspondent at St. Petersburg reports the Japanese have landed at two points in the vicinity of Port Arthur. The first landing was at Plesewo, the second at Port Adams. The two places are on the opposite sides of the Liao Tung peninsula, twenty miles apart.

Fight Themselves
London, May 6.—A dispatch from Tokio says the report from Gen. Kuroki states in the retreat Sunday a large body of Russians mistook a smaller body of their countrymen for Japanese and attacked them. A hundred and eighty were killed or wounded.

Russia Groans
St. Petersburg, May 6.—The public is in a state of profound gloom and suppressed dissatisfaction. Voices are becoming more numerous and louder which inquire whether Manchuria is worth the enormous sacrifices which are being made.

Suspend Zassalitch
St. Petersburg, May 6.—It is understood here that General Zassalitch has already been relieved of his command for disobedience of orders and that his action is under investigation.

Cut Communication
St. Petersburg, May 6.—The Japanese troops which have landed at Plesewo yesterday have cut off all land communication with Port Arthur.

Without a Shot
London, May 6.—Dispatches received here this afternoon state that the Japanese have occupied all the hills on the road to Feng Chuan Cheng without firing a shot.

It is Official
Washington, May 6.—Official confirmation has been received at the state department of the report that the Japanese landed at the Liao Tung peninsula. The place of landing is on Kin Chou bay, forty-five miles northeast of Port Arthur.

UNITED STATES STEEL SYNDICATE DISSOLVES

Underwriters Lose $10,000,000 in Conversion of Stock into Bonds of the Big Concern.

New York, May 6.—Members of the syndicate formed to convert United States steel stock into bonds have been notified of its dissolution by J. P. Morgan & Co. and have been asked for payment. It is believed generally in Wall street that the syndicate has suffered a loss, and the amount is estimated from $10,000,000 to $24,000,000. It is not easy to make an exact statement of general results, inasmuch as this varies with individual members according to the price paid by them for the preferred stock which they put in.

It will be remembered that the syndicate undertook to guarantee the subscription of $100,000,000 5 per cent preferred stock, taken at par, and 20 per cent in cash. The syndicate has turned in its preferred stock, for which it received bonds, but its total payment of cash will amount to something more than $9,000,000, for which it receives $20,000,000 bonds. Assuming, for purposes of argument, that the preferred stock turned in cost on the average 95, and that the bonds which it receives are worth 75, the syndicate operations would represent a loss of about 10 per cent. The loss would be smaller in so far as some members of the syndicate may have paid less than 95 for their preferred, while, on the other hand, some may have paid more.

The dissolution of the stock conversion syndicate will, it is reckoned, result in the delivery of about $50,000,000 bonds to the members of the syndicate May 17.

PICKEREL BITING AT INDIAN FORD

Fishermen Are Enjoying These First
Fine Days—Frog Hunting
on Goose Island.

Everyone who can get away for a half day is repairing to the Rock river with the rods and reels and traces these days. Several good catches of pickerel and bass were made yesterday and Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Dudley who made an automobile fishing trip to Indian Ford were among the lucky ones who brought home a heavy creel. Long before daylight last Sunday morning a man whose genial face adorns a clothing store on the east side and a plumber of the west side, armed with a ten quart pail, went on a frog hunting expedition on Goose Island. From half past three a. m. till the church bells were ringing they pursued their quarry and returned with a single infant "swamp night-angler."

SENATOR QUAY IS A DYING MAN

Noted Pennsylvania Politician Making Ready
To Leave This World.

ARRANGES HIS BUSINESS MATTERS

Secures Appointments for His Friends and Followers, Where They Will Be Well Cared For
in the Future.

(By Wisconsin News Association.)
Washington, May 6.—Senator Matthew Stanley Quay, one of the most picturesque figures in American politics, and perhaps the most astute politician in the United States, is calmly and deliberately making preparations for his death.

For the last year the Pennsylvania boss has been falling in health, and he is so weak and emaciated that he realizes the end is not far distant. In the methodical manner characteristic of him he is arranging his business affairs, making provision for his friends, and securing appointments for his political followers.

The utmost secrecy is observed regarding the malady of Senator Quay, and even the name of his physician is concealed. He is suffering with asthma and a serious liver complaint.

Gives Up Active Politics.
Since the extra session of congress convened Senator Quay has been unable to attend to his public duties, and last fall he turned over the management of political affairs in Pennsylvania to Senator Penrose, who is now the active leader in the state, subject of course to the direction of Senator Quay. Mr. Quay came to Washington soon after congress convened and remained here for some time, but he rarely appeared in the senate. In January he went to St. Lucie, his home in Florida, and remained there a month. He returned to Washington and was here a few days, but his condition was such that his appearance startled his friends; there was absolutely no improvement.

Rebels at Restriction.
Senator Quay has been placed on a diet by his physician, as his stomach is so weak it will retain no nourishment. He rebels against restrictions placed upon him by his physicians. He is an inveterate smoker, and it is well known the senator is in the habit of taking several drinks of wine and whisky every day. He has been restricted to one cigar and one drink, but in order to take full advantage of the privilege allowed him by his physician the senator purchases the biggest cigar he can find and makes it last all day.

Senator Quay is an indomitable fighter, and he never has known defeat except when the senate declined to seat him after he had been appointed to that body by the governor of Pennsylvania in 1899, after the legislature had been dead locked during the entire session.

RECOVERS USE OF ARM AFTER ELECTRIC SHOCK

Skin-Grafting Operation Restores
Member to Its Functions After Being Burned.

Wheaton, Ill., May 6.—Byron McCain, who received 26,000 volts of electricity through his right arm while working at the Warrenville substation of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Electric Railway, has recovered and has an arm which is almost as good as ever.

McCain was injured on Aug. 29 by coming in contact with part of the machinery at the substation. He was taken to the Aurora hospital and placed in the charge of Dr. J. W. McDonald, who grafted new skin on the arm, which was almost a charred mass.

Three hundred and twenty square inches of skin were transplanted, being taken from the skin of egg shells and from the bodies of his wife, himself and a friend. McCain is enabled to return to his home after operations, which lasted through four months, only portions of the arm being covered as they were prepared.

SOCIALISTS NOMINATE DEBS FOR PRESIDENT

Benjamin Hanford of Brooklyn Is Selected for Second Place—Platform
Appeals to Trades Unionists.

Chicago, May 6.—Eugene V. Debs was nominated by acclamation as the presidential candidate of the Socialist party at the national convention at Brandt's hall. Benjamin Hanford of Brooklyn was selected as Debs' running mate.

The platform for the party had just been accepted by the convention amid great applause and exactly as framed by the committee, when George D. Herron of New York rose to make the nominating speech. It was generally expected that Mr. Debs would be selected to head the ticket, but few expected to hear the nomination made by the leader of the more radical portion of the party, to which Mr. Debs does not belong.

The nomination was greeted with cheers and wild handclapping, and was quickly followed by a dozen seconds and his election. In the meantime Mr. Debs had disappeared, and a committee was appointed to bring him to the platform, but it was impossible to find him.

Benjamin Hanford was then nominated as the candidate for vice president under as auspicious circumstances as was the head of the ticket.

The report of the committee on trades unions in the morning session brought forth a volley of argument and discussion. The report was made in the form of a resolution explaining and supporting labor unions. It called upon trades unionists to support the Socialist party as the only means to their future betterment.

The sentiment of the resolution was supported by a number of trades unionists, who attempted to secure an endorsement of the Socialist party by the American Federation of Labor at their annual convention in Boston, but failed.

Early in the afternoon discussion on the resolution was brought to a close, and the motion carried by a large majority. Through the appeal for support from the labor unions the party hopes to secure a large percentage of the 2,000,000 votes in the American Federation of Labor.

AESOP'S FABLE OF TINY MOUSE

DIMINUTIVE FIELD MOUSE KILLED MANY APPLE TREES.

WEATHER MADE HIM HUNGRY

Usually Lives on Grasses, But During the Past Cold Winter Fed on the Bark of Trees.

An eastern paper recently printed an article which told of the destruction of many valuable trees during the past winter by field mice. The whole subject seemed so absurd on the face of it that it was dismissed from mind. It was, however, recalled yesterday when a farmer near Milton told of the unexplained destruction of several of his fine maples during the past winter by some animal. He also discovered that many of the apple trees in the neighborhood had also been damaged to a certain extent in a similar manner by his maple trees. When the field mice problem was explained to him he immediately accepted it and said that the marks on the animals teeth shown on the bark was similar to that of a field mouse.

Cold Weather.
Whether any other trees throughout the country were damaged to any extent in like manner is not known but it is probable. According to the Boston Transcript this destruction of trees by field mice was due entirely to the extreme cold weather of the past winter. It is said that last summer the number of mice increased wonderfully in number and that when winter came and they had no supply of dried grass to live on they turned to the trees as their only means of food.

Under the Snow.
Just as the field mouse in summer remains hidden under the bunches of grasses so in the winter they make little burrows underneath the snow to their feeding places. In many places the snow was quite deep and thus the mouse could climb higher onto the trunk of the trees where the nourishment would be softer and still be under the covering of snow. The rabbits are also said to have helped the mice in this destruction for the same reasons.

Lives on Grass Roots.
The meadow mouse, one has it on the authority of Mr. Daynes, is one of our commonest animals. It has not the tin can appetite of a goat; but it will subsist on grass and the roots of grass, and on most other vegetable matter. It keeps down innumerable insects that prey upon the crops. It occasionally feeds upon animal flesh, and when pressed by the famine of severe winter it takes to the bark and buds of young trees. In addition to this hardness it is highly prolific. Eight young appear at a birth, two or three broods are raised in a season, and the female is full of resource in saving her young from harm. Occasionally they devour one of their own kind; but ordinarily murder and self-slaughter are barred by strict convention among the sect, and for all the snakes and weasels and hawks they manage to flourish and multiply. The mouse's presence over the land is something enormous. The rambling pedestrian in crossing any field or down will notice that hardly a single square foot of its sod is left untouched by his never-ending net work of paths and galleries through the grass. In appearance he is dark brownish gray with short ears, a short snout and short legs and short tail. Personally he is a good sort of a fellow, an excellent family man, frugal industrious and careful by tradition. There is some intelligence to him, together with a reputed sense of humor. And according to his lights he is strict. He is earnest in his duty to God and man.

SURVEYING NEAR STOUGHTON NOW

An Edgerton Man Reports Interurban Field Party is Hard at Work Near That City.

An Edgerton man said in Stoughton yesterday, says a Stoughton dispatch, that the surveyors for the interurban railway between Janesville and Madison had already reached within a mile of Edgerton from the starting point, and that this company was proceeding with the undertaking as if it meant business. Some speculation is rife in Stoughton as to what the management will say to a demand for the line running the whole length of Main street, and the Gazette correspondent is informed that should the city council exact of the company that the track be laid from the east corporation boundary on Main street, crossing the St. Paul right of way at the depot, that the application for a franchise would be cancelled and the road constructed outside of the city limits. It is claimed that President Michael Hayes, of the interurban company, has declared emphatically that he will not agree to a track being laid down the depot hill. Meanwhile Stoughton may insist upon it, and a controversy may be in prospect. For years there has been more or less of an agitation for a viaduct at the depot, which would prove an advantage to the St. Paul railroad company, to farmers and the interurban. A viaduct would solve the problem. In fifty years Stoughton ought to have at least twenty thousand population—sufficient to maintain a local street car line, and the interurban asks a franchise for that period.

Granted Divorce. May A. Cole of Beloit has been granted a decree of divorce from Elbert D. Cole on the ground of non-support. The action came up in circuit court Wednesday and Judge Dunwiddie granted the divorce.

Application for Franchise Filed: An application for a street railway franchise was filed with the city clerk at Stoughton Tuesday by the Southern Wisconsin Interurban Railway company.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO COLLEAGUE

Senator Spooner Says Mr. Quarles Has Earned His Re-election—Has Faith.

Senator John C. Spooner upon being asked if he had noticed the report that two or three republican conventions in Milwaukee had failed to endorse Senator Quarles, and if he drew any inference adverse to his colleague said: "I do not conceive it possible that the republicans of Wisconsin can be induced to withhold from Senator Quarles the endorsement of a reelection. It has been so much a custom, and a well justified custom, from the standpoint of fair play, as to have become a rule of party action, that one who has served faithfully and ably during a first term is entitled from his party to the endorsement which is implied by a second nomination or election. There is, so far as I know, no other candidate than Senator Quarles. If there be any other candidate it is not avowed, but is under cover."

Entitled to Re-election.
"No man ever better entitled himself, in my opinion, to be chosen to succeed himself in the United States senate than Senator Quarles. He is an able lawyer, a well read statesman, clean handed, loyal to the republican party, always faithful in the discharge of public duty, eloquent and industrious. He has the confidence of the senate and the respect and regard of his colleagues on both sides of the chamber. Many senators of both parties have said to me during the last month that they earnestly hope for his return, the democratic senators, of course, make the qualification of a republican to come here from Wisconsin. There has been no interest of the state nor of a constituent to which he has not with promptitude and efficiency given attention. His position on committees, notably the committee on commerce, in whose work the state is necessarily greatly interested, has enabled him to do much for Wisconsin, and will enable him to do more in the future. No new man could soon achieve, under the traditions of the senate, the committee appointments which he has achieved, and the holding of which enables a senator to render great service to his constituents."

"He has the confidence of the president and the cabinet. He is, therefore, well equipped from that standpoint to conserve the interests of a great constituency."

"I abandoned his practice, and has devoted himself absolutely to the public service. I have found him frank, straightforward, manly, zealous, tolerant of differences of opinion, proud of the state and her fame, and ready always to cooperate with those who represent her here to promote her interests. It is a matter of vital concern to a state that her senators especially should be able to work together for her benefit."

Not to Be a One Termer.
"Justice to an able, faithful, honorable public servant as well as the interests of the state demand that the name of Joseph V. Quarles shall not in violation of party tradition stand in the permanent record of the government as that of a one term senator," as the phrase goes here, with its ugly inference for all time of neglect of duty or want of capacity."

"I have confidence in the republicans of Wisconsin and in their sense of justice and fair play. Therefore, I have entertained no doubt of the reelection of Senator Quarles, unless his defeat shall be accomplished by stealthy methods."

"I have always been reluctant while in the senate to intervene in the local politics of the state. I have been content to help fight as best I might the battles of the party with its political enemies on questions of policy and principle. I have never desired to be a political boss and I resent political bossism in others. Once I was constrained to express in a formal public way since I have been in the senate the opinion that a governor (Seaford) should be renominated for a second term. No hostility to his opponent, although I know him to be a personal and political enemy, influenced me in that declaration, which was made only because I thought Gov. Seaford made a good governor, and that to deny him the endorsement of a reelection would be the greatest breach of party tradition as to lead in the election in all probability to party defeat."

"But in these days when executives attempt to choose United States senators, to nominate members of congress, and actively intervene in the election of judges, I hope I may be pardoned for saying in this earnest way these words for my colleague."

Hopeful for National Party

In regard to the general political outlook Senator Spooner expressed confidence in the success of the republican party in the national elections and asserted that it is his purpose to take an active part in the national campaign.

"Of course," said the senator, "I shall take part in the campaign. I intend to take some vacation. The session has been an extremely laborious one."

Senator Spooner is busily packing up to leave. Mrs. Spooner and Phil Spooner will be in Madison the latter part of the week. Just when the senator will get away is still uncertain.

FIRE DESTROYED VINCENT'S HOTEL

Popular Hostelry at Lake Koshkonong Burned Early Thursday Morning.

At Vincent's hotel at Lake Koshkonong was totally destroyed by fire early Thursday morning. The flames were discovered before the hotel guests were awake through the burning of the house which aroused the family and all that was saved from the building was the piano. The barns and outlying buildings were saved. The insurance carried on the hotel amounted to $5,000. The hostelry has been a popular one for Janesville people.

PERCENTE MIXES IN MILWAUKEE STRIKE

But Not on the Side Which Offered $5 for His Services—Invited to "Smash" Union Men.

Joe Percente, professional lightweight fighter who left Janesville rather hurriedly after the money he offered to bet on a contest he had arranged was promptly covered, has come to light in Milwaukee where he is again at his post selling papers on the Wells building corner, Milwaukee and Wisconsin streets, and mixing in the journeyman tailors' strike as a side issue. He gets his name in the prints through an affidavit he has filed alleging that he was invited by one Eugene Casey, of the tailoring firm of Casey & Strosen-Routier, who obtained an injunction against the journeymen tailors' union to "take a couple of smashes" at General Organizer C. J. McKeever of the International Journeymen Tailors' union and William Baumann, a trustee of union 86. Percente alleges that Casey offered him a five dollar note and a guarantee to get him out of jail if arrested, providing he would do the job. He seems not to have accepted the commission though he went so far as to have the men pointed out to him.

It Costs You Nothing

King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug Company Will Return Your Money if Mi-na Does Not Cure You.

There are hundreds of people in Janesville who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the "Gazette" that King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug Company are selling Mi-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not cure. This marvelous dyspepsia remedy will cure the worst cases of indigestion, headache, dizziness or the general played out condition that afflicts every one suffering with stomach trouble. Mi-na does not simply relieve; it cures. King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug Company can tell you of many well known people in this city whom this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer. And there are hundreds in Janesville today praising Mi-na because it cured them. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-na they eat with no fear or suffering.

This medicine is in the form of a small tablet, very pleasant to take and costs only 50c a box. It is a pure medicine that speedily and permanently cures all forms of stomach trouble and is the only one that can be sold under a positive guarantee without any restriction to refund the money if it does not cure.

CARRIES RACINE; LOSES CALUMET

CAUCUSES YESTERDAY GIVE THE GOVERNOR 24 VOTES.

COOK CARRIED CALUMET

Fight in Racine County Was a Warm One—Hard Work by Dr. Roberts of This City.

Governor La Follette carried Racine city and county districts at the caucuses yesterday, thus assuring him twenty-four votes at the state convention. Two years ago he did the same thing. The vote was the largest that has ever been polled in Racine or many of the country towns and it was with difficulty that many of the voters were able to get to the voting places at all. Oil inspectors and other state officials including game wardens have been industriously working throughout the whole district. In many of the wards in the city blood was shed and democrats by the dozens were brought to the polls and voted by the La Follette leaders. In Caledonia Dr. Roberts, state veterinarian of this city, was hard at work and did yeoman service for the governor. In this town where no more than seventy voters have ever been polled at a general election the total at last night's caucuses was one hundred and ninety-three.

Cook Won Calumet.
S. A. Cook will receive the unanimous endorsement of Calumet county. It was expected that a strenuous fight would take place at the caucuses between the partisans of the governor and the anti-La Follette forces, but the executive's supporters decided that in this, Mr. Cook's former home county, opposition would be worse than useless. All of the precincts sent Cook delegates to the county convention except New Holstein village and town, where Baensch delegates will probably vote to send a Cook delegation to Madison. ## SUNDAY PAPERS ARE OPPOSED

MEMBERSHIP OVER 3,000,000

Many Reforms Are Discussed by the Delegates, Including the Appointment of a Colored Bishop—Missionary Exhibit Is Comprehensive.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 6.—The reading of the episcopal address by Bishop Cyrus D. Foss occupied the entire time of the Thursday morning session of the Methodist general conference. The address, which was prepared and concurred in by all of the bishops, was a voluminous and comparative resume of church conditions for the last quadrennium and recommended action on matters affecting the church militant and policy.

Dr. George Elliott of Detroit presented a memorial to the effect that the committee on episcopal consider the advisability of the election of a colored bishop.

Charles P. McClelland of New York, lay delegate, spoke in opposition to Dr. Elliott's resolution.

Oppose Sunday Papers.

A resolution was offered by Rev. Horace Jacobs of central Pennsylvania conference to request the publishers of the Daily Christian Advocate, the official organ of the conference, to withdraw from its advertising columns all reference to Sunday newspapers. One of the publishers of the Advocate gave assurance that if the resolution would be withdrawn there would be no further cause for complaint.

The reading of the quadrennial address of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church to the general conference was the feature of the day's session. Bishop Cyrus D. Foss of Philadelphia read the address.

The present membership of the church was reported as 3,031,918, an increase of 128,025 in four years. The Sunday schools include an aggregate of 3,124,644.

Missionary Exhibit.

Warnings were given against the current evils of the time, political corruption, the liquor traffic, the tyranny of trades unionism, the greed of unscrupulous employers, lynching, the negro question and Mormonism.

An important feature of the day's proceedings was the opening of the magnificent missionary exhibit in the building formerly occupied by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. This exhibit is one of the most interesting ever made on the Pacific coast and surpasses anything of the sort attempted at former conferences. The exhibit is under the personal supervision of Secretary S. Earl Taylor of the open door emergency commission.

Bishop Andrews Presides.

The exercises at the formal opening in the afternoon were conducted by Bishop E. G. Andrews of New York, chairman. Bishop Joseph C. Hartwell of Africa and Dr. A. B. Leonard, secretary of the missionary society, delivered addresses.

Frank Moss, ex-police commissioner of New York and lay member of the New York delegation, who was taken suddenly ill with an attack of inflammatory rheumatism on the trip west, is in a serious condition at the Deaconess hospital.

Rev. Dr. Thomas B. Ford, presiding elder from Oregon, is also confined to his room with a serious illness.

It is estimated that there are 20,000 delegates and visitors here.

RUSSIA EXPELS WEALTHY JEWS

Arbitrary Action by Government Reduces Them to Beggars.

Berlin, May 6.—Russia has ordered the expulsion of 115 Jewish families numbering 600 persons from Nikolsk in the province of Tchernigoff. The majority of those expelled were born in the district and have become well-to-do. Their expulsion removes them from the condition of affluence to one of destitution. Tchernigoff is within the pale and the expulsion is accordingly illegal and wanton prosecution.

Rock Island Road's Indebtedness.

St. Louis, May 6.—A mortgage for $103,000,000 has been recorded here by the Rock Island Railroad Company. This represents the bonded indebtedness of about $150,000,000. The other $13,000,000 is to be used for improvements.

New Disease Fatal to Children.

New York, May 6.—Seven children have died within the last few days and many others are suffering from a new disease. Victims usually die in twenty-four hours.

Boy Travels Across Continent.

San Francisco, Cal., May 6.—Frederick E. Cogswell, five years old, has just completed a journey from Philadelphia to San Francisco.

Death of Mardi Gras Founder.

New York May 6.—Joseph Stillwell Cain, known as the father of Mardi Gras in this country, is dead, aged seventy-two years.

Duel Over a Dog.

Weston, W. Va., May 6.—Kres Irwin and Dado Cowens fought a revolver duel over a dog, both are likely to die.

ALWAYS TIRED NEVER RESTED

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired, never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always-tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force, the muscles become weak, the digestion impaired, and general disorder occurs throughout the system. Debility, insomnia, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, strength and energy, and the hundreds of little ailments we often have are due directly to a bad condition of the blood and circulation, and the quickest way to get rid of them is by purifying and building up the blood, and for this purpose no remedy equals S. S. S., which contains the best ingredients for cleansing the blood and toning up the system. It is a vegetable blood purifier and tonic combined, that enriches the blood, and through it the entire system is nourished and refreshing sleep comes to the tired, never-rested, body.

For over four years I suffered with general debility, causing a thorough breaking down of my system. My cousin, who had been benefited by S. S. S., told me about it. I tried it and it cured me. I heartily recommend S. S. S. to all who may feel the need of a thoroughly good blood tonic. Yours truly,
MRS. JOSIE A. BLUNT-TAIN,

Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 6, 1864.—Prof. Martine's Dancing Class. The dancing class of Prof. Martine, at the Hyatt house, on Monday and Tuesday next, in the afternoon and evening of each of those days. Prof. Martine has put himself to considerable expense in preparing the floor of this hall for the school, waxing and putting it in the finest possible condition. At the close of the school on Tuesday evening a social party will be given free to the scholars but to which a small admission fee will be charged to those not members of the class.

A Good Move.—Quite a number of prominent merchants of our city have entered into an arrangement to close their places of business every evening except Saturday evening. This is a good move and the merchants themselves will find it an economical one. The community can very readily accommodate itself to the new programme and make their purchases in the day time, and it is a duty that business men owe to themselves and their employees to save a little time, from their working hours for pleasure and enjoyment. This course has been adopted in large cities, and it is found to work admirably. There is no reason why it should not be just as beneficial here. It is a step in the right direction.

War Meeting Tonight.—There is to be another war meeting at the Court room this evening, and we most sincerely hope the credit of this fair city that there will be a generous outpouring of our citizens this evening to promote enlistments for the hundred day service. With the sound of cannon booming in our very ears, and the knowledge that our friends and brothers are in this moment struggling with the death grapple with our common enemy, it becomes us to sit with folded arms as though we had no interests in the strife. Let us show by our actions that the well being of our country is dear to all our hearts.

COUNTRY ROADS WELL DISCUSSED

EZRA GOODRICH OF MILTON
JUNCTION, WRITES A LETTER.

TELLS OF HOME MADE ROADS

Government Roads Cost More and
Are Not as Good in Results as Those Locally Built.

Following is a letter of Ezra Goodrich of Milton Junction in which he says that home-made roads are cheaper than the government can make.

A typical good road should have a track twenty-five feet wide in the center that is hard and solid at all seasons of the year. On each side of this there should be a soft track on which to travel when it is dry and good; which would be perhaps four-fifths of the year. Outside of this there should be ample passage for the water to run off, and if need be a sidewalk on the margin.

The hard track if constantly used will make the horses' feet sore, will wear out their shoes fast; it is noisy for vehicles and wears out the tires to the wheels rapidly. A horse soon learns to seek the soft track when it is dry if left to choose his own way. Gravel, if run through a machine that crushes the round stone would be better, as they are apt to work up and roll around on the surface of the road. And a heavy roller, to pack the gravel and soil down solid and hard would be a good thing.

A road is better not to be too high in the center, as it throws too much weight on the lower wheels when you drive on the sides of the road. Gravel when worked down and mixed with and packed hard in the soil is an indestructible thing.

Cost of Gravel Road
The cost of graveling a road depends on the distance it has to be hauled. In Milton it has cost from 25 to 30 cents per cubic yard to haul it a mile or less, and nowhere more than double that sum.

All our roads from the villages to the town line are gravelled, and it helps materially in drawing business to them. Our villages are not incorporated yet, although they may be soon. Our farmers in drawing milk to the factories would not know how to get along without our gravel roads. A team will haul twenty-five cans of milk on a good gravelled road with more ease than it can haul the empty wagon in the mud in the spring of the year.

Our rural mail carriers can make their routes in one-half of the time, and with one-tenth of the hard work for the horses that they could without our gravelled roads when the frost first comes out in the spring. One man has bought an automobile to run his route with this year.

How Tax is Voted
Our custom in carrying a gravel tax has been to vote by ballot, designating how much money was to be expended on each respective road. The work was done under the supervision of the supervisors, and the jobs let to the lowest bidder.

One dollar that expended in graveling the roads has been of more lasting benefit than $10 under pathmasters, worked out in the old way. The road in this place that we first started in is in fine condition. Very little has been expended on it since it was made thirty years ago. Hundreds of teams pass over it every day in the week. It cost $400 per mile to gravel it. Four thousand dollars per mile will not make as good a road if built by state government aid.

We never have known of a road being built by state or government aid at less than $1000 per mile, which, for common practical use in our rural districts would be a prohibitive price.

OUR SUPERVISORS NOT ON TAX BOARD

Act of Last Legislature Applies Only to Cities That Have Adopted
General Charter.

The act of the last legislature whereby the county supervisors from the several wards of a city are made members of the tax board of review applies only to cities that have adopted the general charter, said City Clerk Badger this morning. It does not apply to Janesville with its special charter. Section 1060 of the Revised Statutes governs in the case of this city and this section provides that the mayor, city clerk, and assessors shall constitute the board of review.

Jim Gore, known more widely as "Jim the Printer," is suffering with delirium tremens in the city lockup. He sat in his cell this morning, his whole body quivering like a leaf, and with his hands over his ears cried out again and again to the terrible, nameless creatures of his disordered brain to cease their torment and leave him. The spectacle was a pitiful one.

BIG LOCAL CROP OF STRAWBERRIES

Plants Generally Stood the Winter
Well—The Horticultural Bulletin.

There will be a big crop of cherries and strawberries this year, shown by a special horticultural bulletin issued by Frederic Crane. The State Horticultural society aims to collect and disseminate information helpful to all. To this end a system of reports has been inaugurated by the secretary, Frederic Crane, intended to cover prospects for fruit crops, prevalence of destructive insects and diseases. The following regarding the extent of winter injury to fruits and flowers has been compiled from the April reports:

Among the varieties of apples killed are Gano, Grimes Golden, Pewankee, Ben Davis, Baldwin and Fall Orange. Fruit buds on standard kinds were only slightly injured. None of these except Pewankee have been recommended by the society and now that is added to the list of doubtful ones. In the line of plums, native varieties are reported unhurt in every case. As to European plums, the trees were badly injured and the fruit buds are 90 to 100 per cent dead. Japanese plums proved harder than European but will be a very light crop, the fruit buds being killed. Cherries suffered less than plums and are generally reported in good condition.

Raspberries and blackberries were killed to the snow line where not protected. This means a short crop. Strawberries came out in excellent condition, Korea were badly injured where unprotected. Reports received from 35 counties show less injury in northern Wisconsin than in the southern part, probably due to the heavier snowfall in the north.

THE BIG STABLE IS TO BE BUILT

FRANKLIN STREET PROPERTY
HAS BEEN PURCHASED.

THE WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Harness Shop and Rest Room Will Be Built in Front of Barn—Boon
for the Farmers.

Negotiations for the purchase of North Franklin street property to be utilized for stables and a large boarding stable were through the instrumentality of A. M. Fisher and W. W. Nash brought to a successful issue yesterday and J. C. French of Rockford, the new owner of the area eight rods square between Wall and West Bluff streets, heretofore owned and occupied by Michael Farrell, Miss Louise Hanson, and Mrs. E. Dano, will commence the work of removing the buildings at once. Store and flat apartments will be built on the front of the property with three driveways leading to the immense barn in the rear.

Mr. French has disposed of his interests in a similar enterprise in Rockford and will move to Janesville to reside permanently. He is already figuring with contractors and the work on building will commence within a few weeks. The enterprise will involve an expenditure of $12,000. Besides the barn which will shelter 150 teams and will be fitted out with a cement floor and modern in every respect, there will be a goodly sized harness store and a rest room for the wives and daughters of farmers.

The new project is certain to prove a boon to Janesville. By providing farmers with ample accommodations for their teams at a nominal cost of about ten cents more who have heretofore found other cities more attractive because of the lack of accommodations here will now make this city the objective point of their weekly visits. Mr. French is an enterprising and capable business man and his decision to make his permanent residence here is also a cause for congratulation.

The Filigree Ball

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN,
Author of "The Mystery of Agatha Webb," "Lost Man's Lane," Etc.

Copyright, 1903, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Little that knot! Why do you leave that dreadful thing fast to her? Little it, I say! It is killing me. I cannot bear the sight." And from trembling she passed to shuddering till her whole body shook convulsively.

The captain, with much consideration, drew back the hand he had impulsively stretched toward the ribbon. "No, no," he protested; "we cannot do that. We can do nothing till the coroner comes. It is necessary that he should see her just as she was found. Besides, Mr. Jeffrey has a right to the same privilege." We expect him any moment."

The beautiful head of the woman before us shook involuntarily, but her lips made no protest. I doubt if she possessed the power of speech at that moment. A change, subtle, but quite perceptible, had taken place in her emotions at mention of her sister's husband, and though she exerted herself to remain calm, the effort seemed too much for her strength. Anxious to hide this evidence of weakness, she rose impetuously, and then we saw how tall she was, how the long lines of her cloak became her and what a glorious creature she was altogether. "It will kill him," she groaned in a deep inward voice. Then, with a certain forced haste and in a tone of surprise which to my ear had not quite a natural ring she called aloud on her who could no longer either listen or answer:

"Oh, Veronica, Veronica! What cause had you for death? And why do you find you lying here in a spot you so feared and detested?"

"Don't you know?" Insinuated the captain, with a mild persuasiveness, such as he was seldom heard to use. "Do you mean that you cannot account for your sister's violent end, you, who have lived with her—or so I have been told—ever since her marriage with Mr. Jeffrey?"

"Yes."

Keen and clear the word rang out, fierce in its keenness and almost too clear to be keeping with the half-choked tones with which she added: "I know that she was not happy, that she never has been happy since the shadow which this room suggests fell upon her marriage. But how could I so much as dream that her dread of the past or her fear of the future would drive her to suicide, and in this place of all places! Had I done so, had I imagined in the least degree that she was affected to this extent—do you think that I would have left her for one instant alone? None of us knew that she contemplated death. She had no appearance of it; she laughed when I—"

What had she been about to say? The captain seemed to wonder, and after waiting in vain for the completion of her sentence, he quietly suggested:

"You have not finished what you had to say, Miss Tuttle."

She started and seemed to come back from some remote region of thought into which she had wandered. "I don't know—I forget," she stammered, with a heartbroken sigh. "Poor Veronica! Wretched Veronica! How shall I ever tell him? How, how can we ever prepare him?"

The captain took advantage of this reference to Mr. Jeffrey to ask where that gentleman was. The young lady did not seem eager to reply, but when pressed, answered, though somewhat mechanically, that it was impossible for her to say; Mr. Jeffrey had many friends, with any one of whom he might be enjoying a social evening.

"But it is far past midnight now."

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure that she has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect," said by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy, Special Agents.

remarked the captain. "Is he in the habit of remaining out late?"

"Sometimes," she faintly admitted. "Two or three times since his marriage he has been out till 11."

Were there other causes for the young bride's evident disappointment and misery besides the one intimated? There certainly was some excuse for thinking so.

Possibly some one of us may have shown his doubts in this regard, for the woman before us suddenly broke forth with this vehement assertion:

"Mr. Jeffrey was a loving husband to my sister—a very loving husband," she emphasized. "Then, growing desperately pale, she added, 'I have never known a better man,' and stopped."

Some hidden anguish in this cry, some self-consciousness in this pause, suggested to me a possibility which I was glad to see ignored by the captain in his next question.

"When did you see your sister last?" he asked. "Were you at home when she left her husband's house?"

"Alas!" she murmured. Then, seeing that a more direct answer was expected of her, she added with as little appearance of effort as possible: "I was at home, and I heard her go out. But I had no idea that it was for any purpose other than to join some social gathering."

"Dressed this way?"

The captain pointed to the floor, and her eyes followed. Certainly Mrs. Jeffrey was not attired for an evening company. As Miss Tuttle realized the trap into which she had been betrayed her words rushed forth and tripped each other up.

"I did not notice. She often wore black. It became her. My sister was eccentric."

Worse, worse than useless. Some slips cannot be explained away. Miss Tuttle seemed to realize that this was one of them, for she paused abruptly, with the words half finished on her tongue. Yet her attitude commanded respect, and I for one was ready to accord it to her.

Certainly such a woman was not to be seen every day, and if her replies lacked candor, there was a nobility in her presence which gave the lie to any doubt. At least, that was the effect she produced on me. Whether or not her interrogator shared my feeling I could not so readily determine, for his attention as well as mine was suddenly diverted by the cry which now escaped her lips.

"Her watch! Where is her watch? It is gone! I saw it on her breast, and it's gone. It hung just—just where—" "Wait!" cried one of the men who had been peering about the floor. "Is this it?"

He held aloft a small object blazing with jewels.

"Yes," she gasped, trying to take it. But the officer gave it to the captain instead.

"It must have slipped from her as she fell," remarked the latter, after a cursory examination of the glittering trinket. "The pin by which she attached it to her dress must have been insecurely fastened." Then quickly and with a sharp look at Miss Tuttle, "Do you know if this was considered an accurate timepiece?"

"Yes. Why do you ask? Is it?"

"Look!" He held it up with the face toward us. The hands stood at thirteen minutes past 7. "The hour and the moment when it struck the floor," he declared. "And consequently the hour and the moment when Mrs. Jeffrey fell," finished Durbin.

Francis Jeffrey

Mrs. Tuttle said nothing, only gasped.

"Valuable evidence," quoth the captain, putting the watch in his pocket. Then, with a kind look at her, called forth by the sight of her misery, he added, "Does this hour agree with the time of her leaving the house?"

"I cannot say. I think so. It was some time before or after 7. I don't remember the exact minute."

"It would take fifteen for her to walk here. Did she walk?"

"I do not know. I didn't see her leave. My room is at the back of the house."

"You can say if she left alone or in the company of her husband?"

"Mr. Jeffrey was not with her."

"Was Mr. Jeffrey in the house?"

"He was not."

This last negative was faintly spoken.

The captain noticed this and ventured upon interrogating her further. "How long had he been gone?"

Her lips parted; she was deeply agitated, but when she spoke it was coldly and with studied precision.

"Mr. Jeffrey was not at home to-night at all. He has not been in all day."

"Not at home? Did his wife know that he was going to dine out?"

"She said nothing about it."

STORM SWEEPS FOUR STATES

Serious Damage to Crops and Homesteads Accompanied by Loss of Life.

Chicago, Ill., May 6.—From sections of Texas, Oklahoma territory, Missouri, and Iowa, which were swept by terrible tornadoes and destructive rain-storms Thursday, come reports of
serious damage to crops and homesteads, accompanied, it is feared, by great loss of life.

Telegraph communication was cut off in the districts which bore the full brunt of the storm, and only vague estimate of the damage done was obtainable. It is expected that fuller accounts of the devastation wrought by the cyclones and rainstorms will tell a story of fatalities and destruction to property.

In Oklahoma one town of eighty inhabitants is reported to be completely wiped out.

The loss of many lives and the destruction of much property and live stock are reported from the district to the north of the town of Cisco, in Texas.

SAVES THE TRAIN FROM WRECK

Operator Gives Signal to Chesapeake
& Ohio Flyer Just in Time.

St. Asaph Junction, Va., May 6.—
An attempt was made to wreck the Chesapeake & Ohio southbound fast-flying vestibule train. Operator V. C.
Davis ran forward with danger signals and stopped the train. Two railroad ties were across the track and a stone wedged into the switch.

Six Men Are Killed.

New York, May 6.—Seven children buried beneath a falling derrick at Twelfth street and Gowanus Canal, in Brooklyn. The men were employed by the Brooklyn Union Gas Company, and were excavating for new tanks
when the derrick slipped and the tank crashed down, burying the men.

Rule Is Reversed.

In the lower orders of life it is the male who develops special adornaments, such as gay feathers and gaudy hues, to attract the female. The reversal of the process, among humans seems to indicate that woman has got into a false position somehow.

Do You Realize The Value of a $2.00 Note

We invite all Shoe Buyers to experiment with the exchange of a $2.00 note for a pair of our Shoes or Oxfords, for the purpose of showing the highest limit of value that can be squeezed out of a $2.00 note,

NEWS OF THE CHICAGO MARKET

Interesting Gossip From the Closing Reports of the Windy City's Mart.

Wheat.—Market scared, further advances today. There was only one time when market assumed an easier tone that was shortly after opening, but buying was of such good character and seemingly so urgent that the market quickly rallied and advanced to high point of day before any reaction occurred. There was an abundance of bad crop reports in Ohio, report came early showing of 53, then the general report issued by Snow which was rather sensational from a bullish standpoint and finally the Modern Miller came out to some extent with the same reports. The advices from southwest were very bullish.

Corn.—Rallied with wheat but advance did not hold, although market did not show any weakness, and last prices show very little change from yesterday's close. Local people sold heavily on the advance and there was very little support forthcoming. Early buying was by shorts and commission houses and at times it looked as if market was in for an advance. Firm cables with too much rain in west for planting should have a bullish effect on market.

Oats.—Oats like corn, the oats market was strong early but lost advance before close. Quite a lot of oats came one and while local people acted bullish they did not offer sufficient support to check decline. Crop advices were against market but general situation unchanged.

Provisions.—Heavy selling by packers and outside account caused weakness. Early market was strong on hog situation but selling set in and market declined rapidly.

LOSES HER DIAMONDS IN ASHES

Joliet Woman, Fearing Thieves, Hides Gems in Waste Paper Basket.

Joliet, Ill., May 6.—Mrs. Henry T. Stevens, wife of a prominent citizen of Joliet, has lost her diamonds, valued at $1,500, under peculiar circumstances. They disappeared in the ash heap, which was carted to the city dumping grounds, and, although search is being made, there is little hope of recovering the diamonds. Mrs. Stevens last wore the gems at a social function in February. There were sneak thieves about Joliet at the time, and instead of putting her jewel bag in the usual place afterward she hid it with the diamonds in a waste basket beneath some waste paper.

PILGRIMS PAY VISIT TO SHRINE

Thousands Go to Our Lady of Consolation Church, Carey, O.

Upper Sandusky, O., May 6.—The annual pilgrimage of Our Lady of Consolation church at Carey took place and twenty priests and their bands of pilgrims participated in the celebration called patrons' feast. The church is said to be the only especially endowed shrine in America, possessing this distinction on account of an alleged miracle statue of the holy virgin and child. The statue contains a piece of the true cross. The day it was placed in the church a violent storm prevailed, but not a drop of water fell on the statue bearers, but a ray of sunshine instead.

Catching Pigeons in Queenstown.

The ragged children of Queenstown catch pigeons in a curious way. Seated in a row on the edge of the pavement, they each have a string stretching into the road, at the end of which is a noose surrounding some tempting bread crumbs. Homeless pigeons pounce on the meal, and are as quickly jerked to the pavement by the cheering youths.—London Graphic.
